The Pastor Speaks

'This Educated World'

1 Thess. 5:1–3

We are living in a doomed world. The Bible says the world is coming to the end, it says that it shall be burned just as was Sodum. Jesus said that the world destruction is coming, just as sure as it came in Noah's day so it is coming again. Notice four things about this educated world.

First of all the World and God, I Cor. 1:21, "The world by wisdom know not God ... it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe." In John 17:25 Jesus said, "Oh righteous Father, the world hath not known thee." The world hates God, Romans 1:30 says, that the people of the world are haters of God." Then notice with me that the world opposes God. James 4:4, "Ye adulterers, adulteresses, know ye not that friendship of the world is enmity with God? ... Whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God.

Then second, the World and Christ. First we see that in the Lord's day the world didn't know Christ, John 1:10, "He was in the world and the world was made by Him and the world knew Him not." Then we see that the world crucified Christ, I Cor. 2:8, "Which none of the princes of this world knew, for had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of Glory." Then we see it didn't believe Christ, John 8:45, "And because I tell ye the truth, ye believe me not."

Thirdly, the World and the Holy Spirit, first we see the world opposes the Holy Spirit, Acts 7:51, "Ye stiff necked and uncircumcised of heart, ye do always resist the Holy Spirit . . ." Then secondly we see it is convicted by the Spirit, John 16:7-11.

Fourthly, the World and the True Christian, we see that the world hates the true Christian, John 15:18, "If the world hates you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you." Then secondly we see it rejects our testimony, Isaiah 53:1, "Who hath believed our report? And to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed?" Thirdly, we see the world does not know the true Christian, I John 3:1, "Behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the Sons of God: Therefore the world knoweth us not, because it knew Him not." When you live for the Lord the world just doesn't understand why.

Notice next please, the World and Satan. First we see he blinds the world, (II Cor. 4:4) "In whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of them that believe not..." Second we see that he has deceived the world, Rev. 12:9, "And the great dragon was cast out, the old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world:"

My friend are you at the crossroads of life wondering whether to believe or not to believe. Come to Jesus today, trust Him as your personal Saviour and then go out and tell the world that you have trusted Christ as your personal Saviour.

How often we stand at the crossroads of life,
Bewildered, dismay and alone.
No marker to guide us through tempest and strife,
The high-way unnamed and unknown.

But Jesus is there at the crossroads,
Unguided no more ye need roam.
He, strength will provide you,
His wisdom will guide you,
To the way of the Cross leading home.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY LAWRENCE W. MATTHOUSE

OUR STORY?

Lesson for October 12, 1969

Background Scripture: 1 Kings 17 through 18,
Devotional Reading: Psalms 47,

Jim Jones is having difficulty. He is losing the battle against drowsiness, an old enemy against which he seems particularly vulnerable on Saturday evenings as he prepares to teach his weekly Sunday school lesson.

He adjusts to a more upright position in the chair and rubs his eyes to shake off the encroaching numbness. But it is to no avail as his enemy closes his eyes and sends Jim into the captivity of slumber.

An Interesting Story

His conscious mind is freed of pondering the Sunday school quarterly, but the conscious mind seems reluctant to let go of it, sending to the sleeping Jim a dream. He finds himself confronted by a man who at first appears to be his father. As the man draws near to him, however, his appearances changes, Jim recognizes him as the prophet Elijah. "I see you have been reading my story," the man says to him. "What did you think of it?" "It was, . ." Jim falters, ". . . very interesting . . ." "Interesting?" Elijah asks, "Yes," says Jim, "particularly the part where you challenge the priests of Baal and the people of Israel turn back to worship God alone."

The prophet says nothing, only looks at Jim as if expecting something more. "Very interesting," Jim repeats. More silence, "I think it is the kind of story every Sunday school child should know." Still more silence. Jim doesn't know what else to say and smiles awkwardly. He knows he has failed in his answers, but he does not know how or why.

Beyond "Interesting"!

At last Elijah breaks the silence with a sterm, "Is that all you can say about it? 'Interesting'! What you mean is that it is an old story that is very entertaining!" Jim cannot reply, "Don't you realize that this is your story too?" This last came to Jim so forcefully that he physically flinched and the shock of the movement of him awake and from the grasp of the dream. Sitting bolt upright, Jim looked around in confusion.

It was only a dream. Yet Jim couldn't help but ponder the prophet's stern questions. What had he meant when he asked if it was not Jim's story too? What more was he to have understood from it?

Elijah's tale was one of national infidelity. The people had not given up the worship of the Hebrew God, but they had also taken up the worship of Baal as well. It was not that they were entirely forsaking their ancient faith, but that they were adopting another faith as well, even mixing the two together. Baal, they thought, brought prosperity and success to their pagan neighbors. Why should the Hebrews miss out on this blessing?

Hard To Root Out

Today, you and I can easily see the need for the Hebrews to understand that they could not worship Baal and God, that it was quite necessary for them to choose one or the other. We can see that Baalism became so intertwined in their lives that it was hard to distinguish and root out.

We find it more difficult to see our society in the same bind today. We are obvious to the Baals around us. We do not realize how pagan culture has permeated our religious life, or that our values may be just as idolatrous as the Baalism of old. We find it difficult to realize that we too "want our cake and eat it too," (Based on outline-sermon suggestions in Teaching Aids, It is used by permission, recognize it as such. National Council of Churches of Christ, Released by Church Press Service.)

J-V's Outweighed In 3 Contests

by Wilfred Rogers

The Appomattox Junior Varsity football team has played three games this year. In our first game, Brookville beat us by making use of the long punt return. The final score was 26-0.

In our second game against Rustburg our players played a much better game but our offence couldn't get moving against Rustburg's defense. Once again we lost 26-0.

On October 2, the Junior Varsity played Amherst in the Mud Bowl at Amherst. Appomattox received the kick-off and failed to pick up a first down. On fourth down our punter was trapped and swarmed under by a host of LANCERS. Two plays later, Amherst scored. This set the stage for the remainder of the ball game. At the gun, Amherst had totaled 76 points. However, this does not indicate the qualityof the game that the boys played. In most cases our players were outweighed by as much as 25 pounds to a man and they were playing against boys who had one year of first string Junior Varsity experience.

The Junior Varsity has come a long way and are working very hard for their first win. With continued effort, this win should come in the next few weeks. Good luck to the Varsity in their remaining games!

The Junior Varsity is rooting for you.!
